The Hannon Library, along with Theological Studies and our other partners are hosting two special programs next week to introduce Picturing Paradise

The third Faculty Pub Night of the semester features Lawrence Wenner, Von der Ahe Professor of Communication and Ethics.

Professor Wenner will be discussing his book Fallen Sports Heroes, Media, and Celebrity Culture, which focuses on the increasingly ubiquitous phenomenon whereby notable figures from the sporting world fall from grace in full public view on the main stages of media.

All Pub Nights are free and open to everyone - not just faculty! Pub refreshments and snacks will be served, and copies of Wenner's book will be available for sale and signing.

RSVP now!

Jewish Book & Discussion Group

Now in its fifth year, the Sunday Jewish Book & Discussion Group is one of the library's longest-running and most beloved series.

On Sunday March 23 at 2 p.m., Dr. Audrey Thacker from CSU Northridge will lead the discussion about Chaim Potok's book My Name is Asher Lev, alongside the author's son Akiva Potok.

The series is free and open to the public - please RSVP to Rhonda Rosen at rrosen@mu.edu or 310-338-4584.

The Circuit Revisited

Did you see the collection of beautiful portraits and landscapes by LMU graduate student Hunter Joslin on display last month?

Although the exhibit is down, we'd be remiss if we didn't share this news with you. At the closing reception and silent auction for The Circuit, the sale of Joslin's work raised over $3200, with all proceeds going towards graduate student scholarships in the Theology department.

Congratulations to Hunter and all of his supporters here at LMU!
