Lesson Plan - Pet Over-Population Circle Process

Center for Urban Resilience

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.lmu.edu/urbanecolab-module09

Repository Citation
https://digitalcommons.lmu.edu/urbanecolab-module09/21

This Lesson 2: Over-population of Dogs is brought to you for free and open access by the Urban EcoLab at Digital Commons @ Loyola Marymount University and Loyola Law School. It has been accepted for inclusion in Module 09: Human-Animal Interactions by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Loyola Marymount University and Loyola Law School. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@lmu.edu.
 MODULE 9 LESSON 2

Welcome to Lesson 2: Pet Over-Population

Introduce the Circle Process:
Read the suggested script and the guidelines to the group.

SUGGESTED SCRIPT
This year, we are trying something a little different at ________ (school name). We are holding Community Building Circles to get to know each other better. This allows us to talk about things that are important such as celebrations, current events, and anything else that’s meaningful to us. This is “our time” to talk with one another.

GUIDELINES
Since we want to give everyone a chance to be heard, we can use this talking piece. (preferably something soft) The person holding the talking piece gets to speak and everyone else gets to listen. Before we begin, let’s review a few guidelines. We ask that everyone:

- Respect the talking piece.
- Speak from the heart (share only your own experiences and not those of others).
- Listen from the heart (be open and non judgmental).
- Trust you’ll know what to say (no need to rehearse).
- Say “just enough” (be considerate of the time when sharing).

Is there anything missing from this list that we need to add?

One way to show you agree with something that someone says without saying a word is by making a hand sign or snapping fingers. Or we can create our own hand-signal.

Are these guidelines something we can all agree to?

OPENING QUESTION
Pick one question from the list below. Offer the prompt to the group and start by answering the prompt yourself. Pass the talking piece to the next person.

- Where did your first name come from? Are you named after anyone? OR
- Use one word to describe how you are feeling right now. OR
- What’s your favorite _______?
CURRICULUM-RELATED QUESTION
Today we’re going to discuss the number of dogs in our communities and some of the issues related to over-population. (Offer the prompt to the group and start by answering the question yourself. Pass the talking piece to the next person.)

- Do you have any problems in your neighborhood with dogs?
- How many dogs should one family own?
- What are the negatives of having too many dogs in your neighborhood?
- Are there any “bad” kinds of dogs? Why are they bad? How do we control them?

CLOSING
Thank the students for sharing their responses and feel free to ask questions or make observations about any of their comments to draw connections.

Now ask the students to return to their work stations and start your lesson.