

HENRY
HANDLEY

Cataloging
Queer
Library
Issues

In, not of, the library

Queer library/archives workers
and Catholic collections

Image: Grant Whitty on Unsplash

HENRY
HANDLEY

Cataloging
Queer
Library
Issues

Image:
rare books
on the shelves of the Marian Library at the University of Dayton.

Catholic libraries are academic libraries

- Catholic professional organizations & resources parallel secular orgs and resources for libraries, archives
- Catholic special collections can represent the core of a Catholic institution's identity

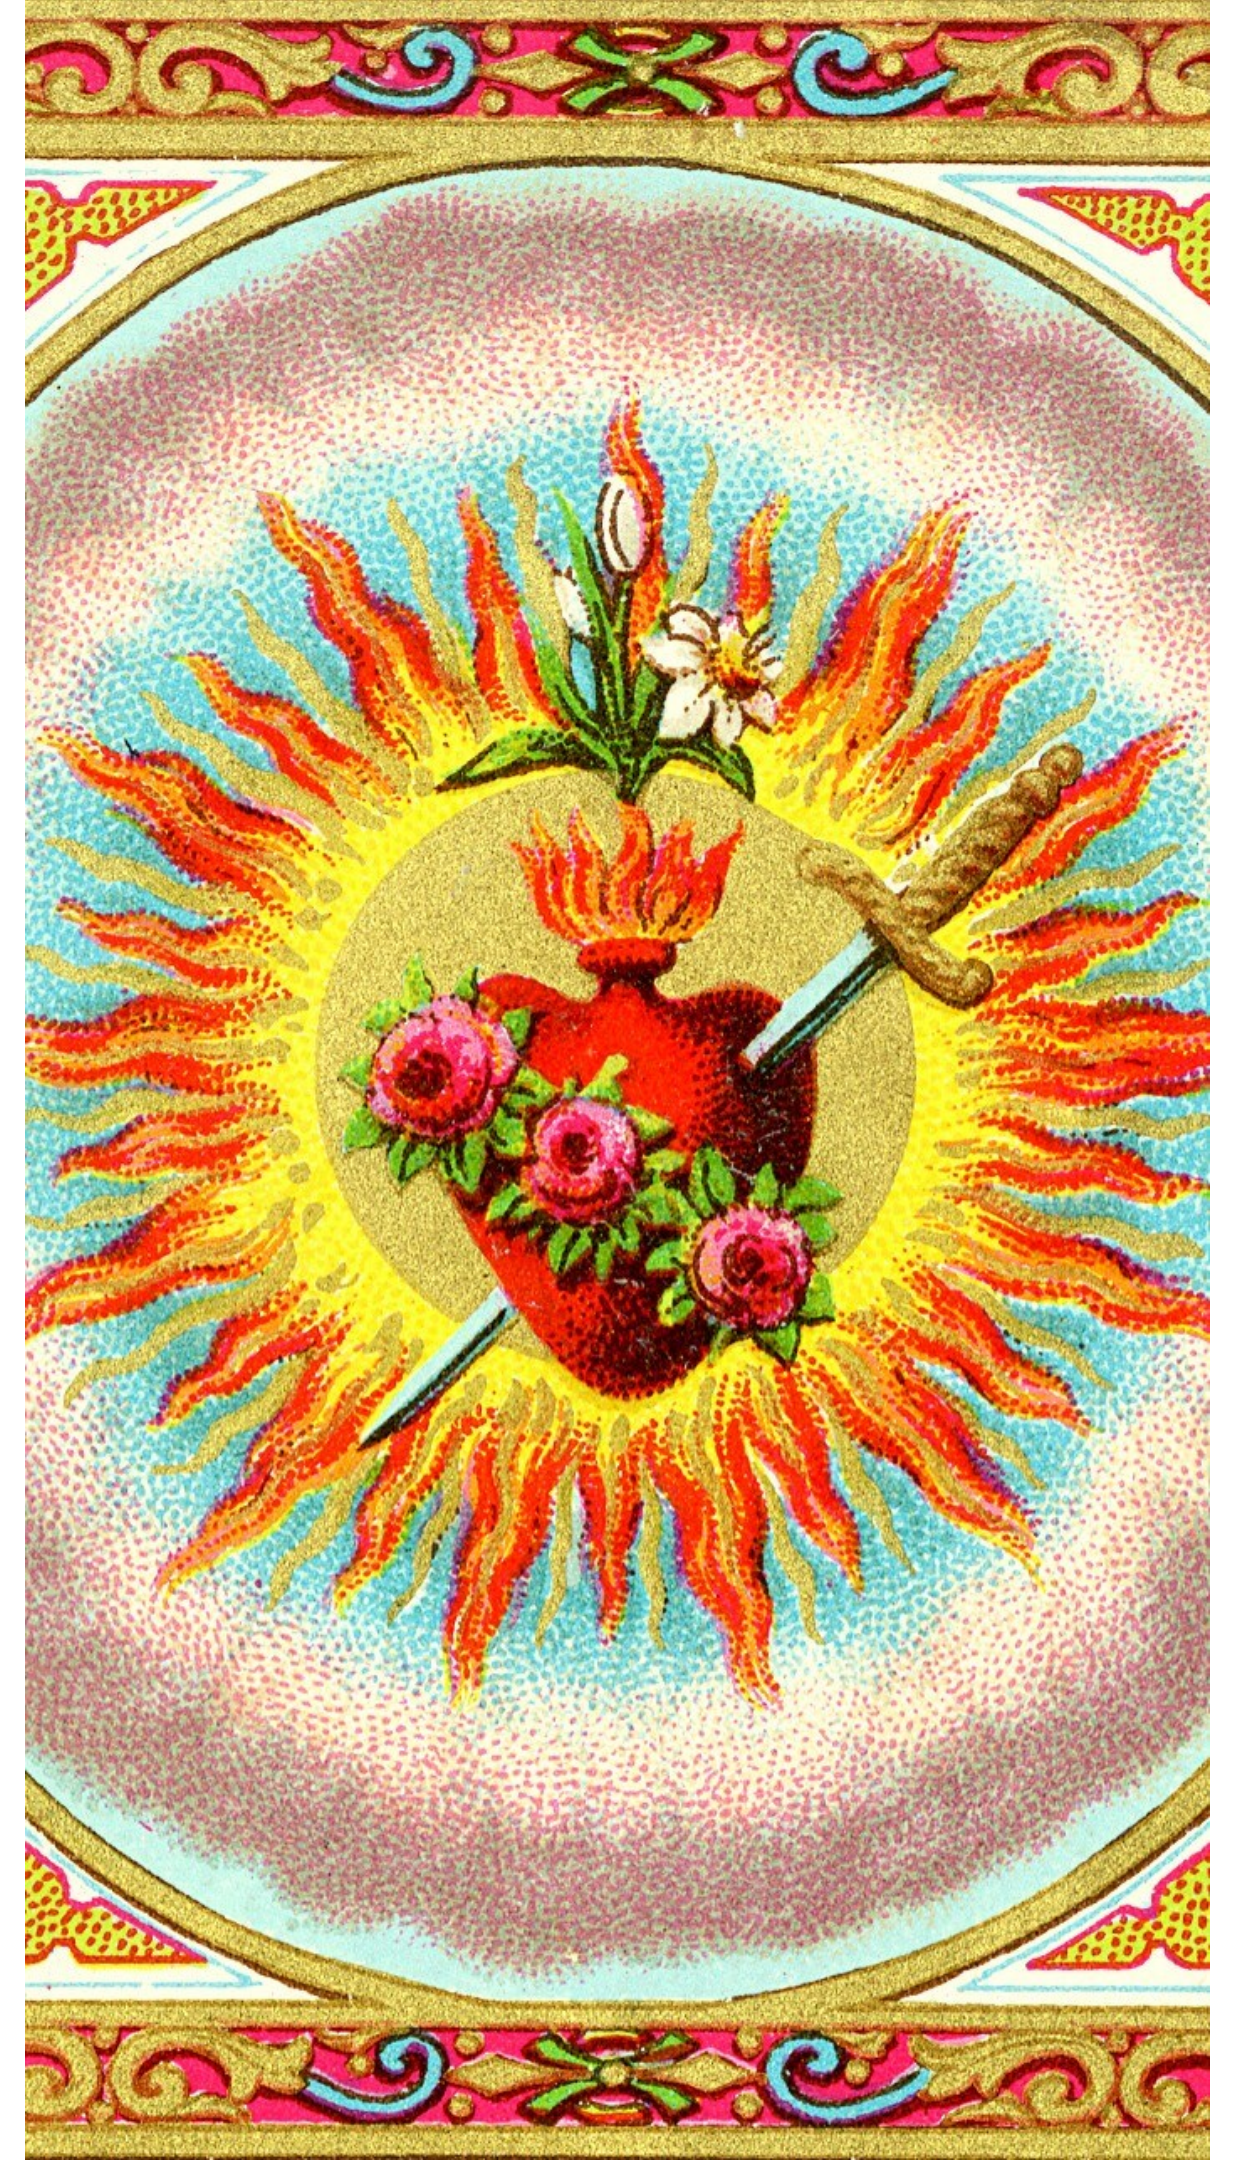

HENRY
HANDLEY

Cataloging
Queer
Library
Issues

Vocational awe in Catholic libraries

- Amplified expectations
- Can be a legacy practice for new library/archives workers to contend with
- Connected to institutional identity, religious understandings of service and sacrifice

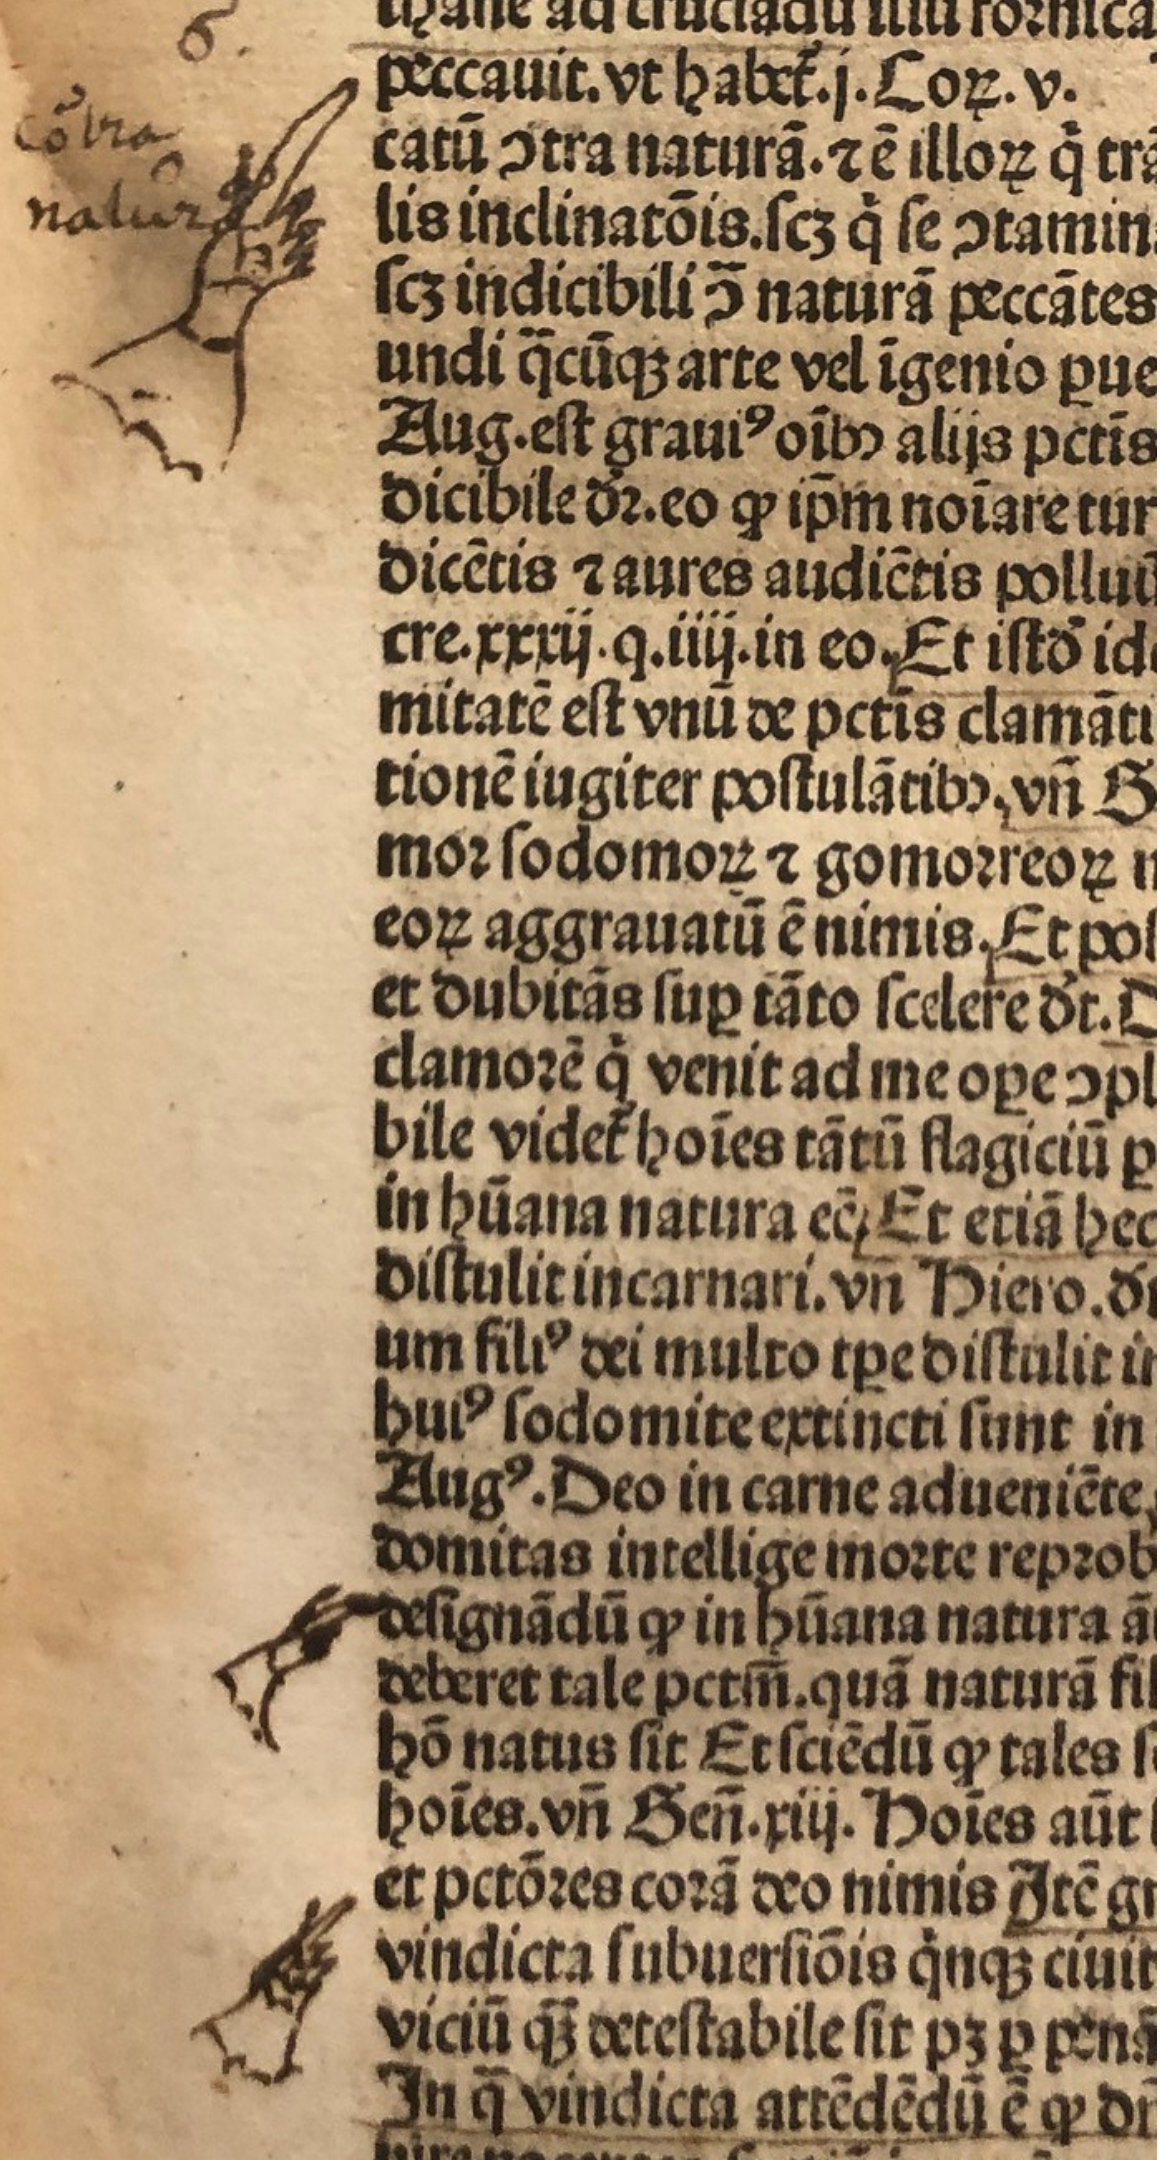

Image: German holy card depicting the Immaculate Heart of Mary, Marian Library. https://ecommons.udayton.edu/ul_holy_cards/213/

HENRY
HANDLEY

Cataloging Queer Library Issues

Image:
manicules
pointing out fornication
and sodomy
in Johann
Herolt,
*Sermones
Discipuli*, 1504, Marian
Library.

Queering Catholic collections

- Collecting, describing, reinterpreting queer presence and silence
- Pick your battles, pick your beliefs
- Queer vocation versus vows and vocational awe

HENRY
HANDLEY

Cataloging
Queer
Library
Issues

Image: non-binary prayer
card by
Jonah
Welch,
Our Lady of Fatima
statue

Toward queer, Catholic library/archival practice

- Critical
- Trauma-informed
- Beyond patron/librarian binaries
- Acknowledges spiritual/emotional ties, timelines
- Being accomplices, not allies

HENRY
HANDLEY

Cataloging
Queer
Library
Issues

Thank you!

Email hhandley1@udayton.edu or @emblematumliber