- data were collected? How were the data collected? Include NO statistics.
10. Tell me the argument(s) the authors make in the first paragraph. - be explicit
11. From the conclusion summarize limitations and directions for future research
12. Choose one of those other research articles cited and say why that research article is important to your author?

Now show that you can SYNTHESIZE information:

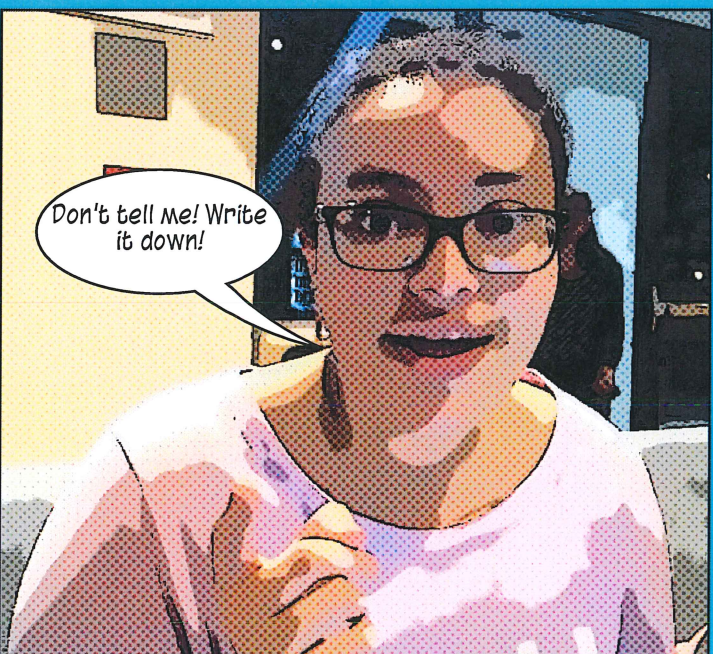

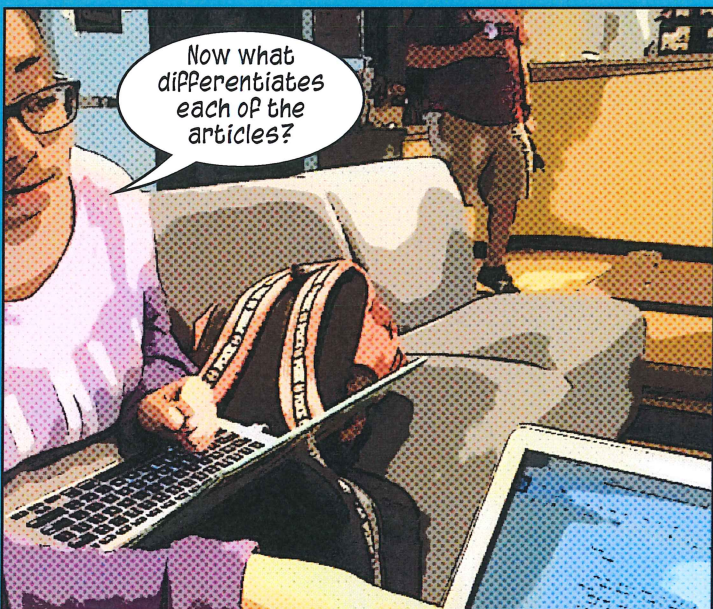

Very important: Arguments are based on synthesis, which requires putting together or combining parts or elements of ideas from various sources in order to create a new whole. Each of the articles you have examined was based on a synthesis of ideas taken from various previously published articles. That is what you will be doing in your literature review.

13. Write a paragraph using the 5 sources that demonstrates your ability to synthesize information from the 5 studies. Quote and paraphrase as needed
14. Create a References page in perfect APA format that includes the 5 sources

Saba has been staring at number 13 on her annotated bib for over a damn hour.

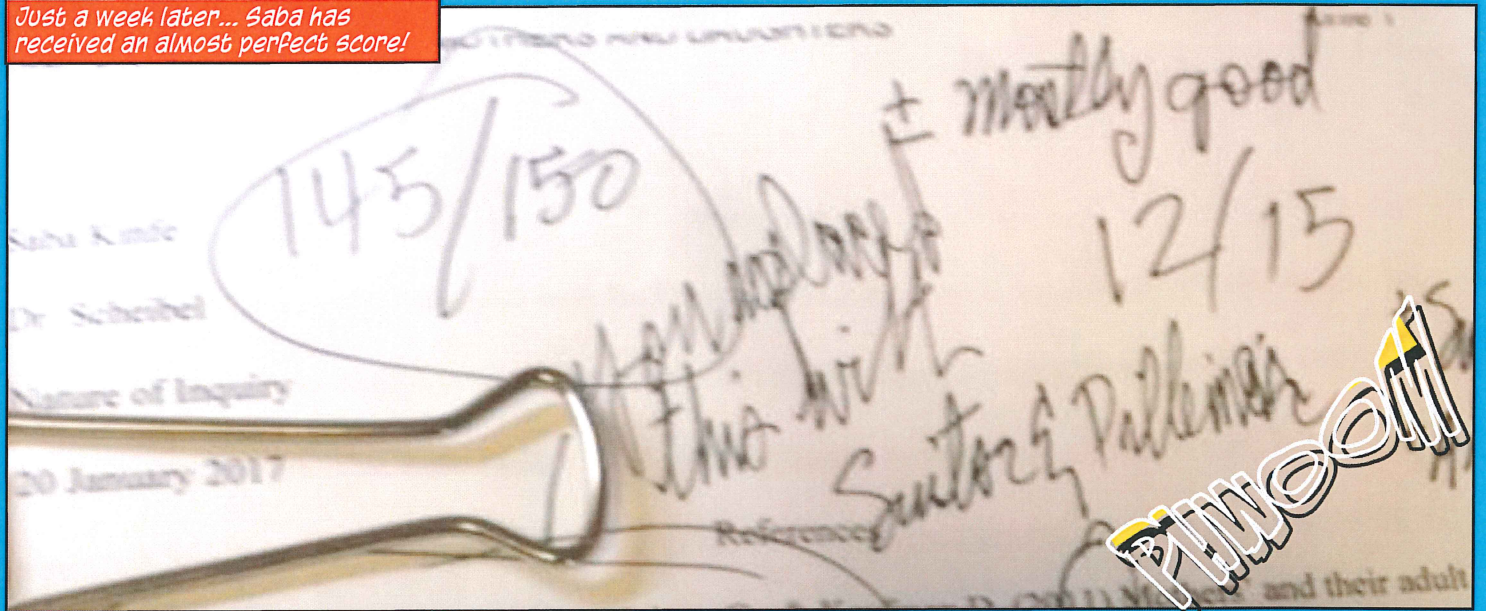

Just a week later... Saba has received an almost perfect score!
