Mission

The mission of Loyola Law School is legal education within the context of Loyola Marymount University and its goals as a Catholic Institution in the Jesuit and Marymount traditions. In carrying out this mission, it is the particular responsibility of Loyola Law School to:

- Achieve and maintain excellence in the instruction of law and promote legal scholarship and research in the context of academic freedom.
- Seek to educate men and women who will be leaders of both the legal profession and society, demonstrating in their practice of law and public service the highest standards of personal integrity, professional ethics and a deep concern for social justice.
- Act at all times as an institution in a manner consistent with those values.
- The Law School should be distinguished by its concern for social justice. It should continue its efforts to provide opportunities for legal education to the poor; the underprivileged, women and minorities. Loyola Law School has a long-standing commitment to diversity and adheres to and supports all legal requirements for non-discrimination and equal opportunity in all of its programs. As a Jesuit-related institution, the Law School recognizes its moral and ethical obligation to provide opportunities for a quality legal education to qualified applicants of diverse backgrounds, interests and professional objectives.

About Loyola Law School, Los Angeles

Located in downtown Los Angeles—a legal, financial and media capital—Loyola Law School is home to prominent faculty, dedicated students and cutting-edge programs. Committed to legal ethics and the public interest, it has produced top attorneys for 90 years. The Princeton Review ranked Loyola third for “Best Classroom Experience.” Loyola was ranked 29th on the 2010 Super Lawyers U.S. Law School Rankings. National Jurist magazine ranks it eighth on its list of “Best Law Schools for Public Interest Law.” It was ranked fifth in the nation for trial advocacy, ninth for diversity and 10th for tax law by U.S. News & World Report. For more information, please visit www.lls.edu.

About the Campus

In 1964, Loyola moved to its present location in the Pico-Union district in Los Angeles, occupying the building that now houses the William M. Rains Library. Expansion of the Law School facilities began in 1980 when Pritzker Prize-winning architect Frank O. Gehry was commissioned to design the campus. The Gehry-designed campus has been the subject of both local and international architectural acclaim, and Gehry’s campus designs have won the profession’s highest recognition for design excellence.

Comprised of a series of contemporary buildings clustered around a central plaza, the campus is at once intimate and open. The classrooms, offices, study and social spaces provide Loyola students with an attractive and inviting environment for the study of law and for social and intellectual exchange.

The campus includes the Albert H. Girardi Advocacy Center; the Fritz B. Burns Academic Center; three free-standing lecture halls; the Chapel of the Advocate; the Rev. Charles S. Casassa Building; the William M. Rains Library; an 823-car parking structure; and the Student Services Center.

Celebrating 90 Years of Excellence in Legal Education
