Tees, Fairways, Greens and Blue Skies Lay Ahead

The Bob Cooney Golf Tournament is as much about camaraderie and a great cause as it is about competition and a good course. Alumni and friends of Loyola Law School will not want to miss out on the seventh annual tournament which will be held at the beautiful Coyote Hills Golf Course in Fullerton on Sunday, September 12. The tourney, which benefits the Cancer Legal Resource Center (CLRC), begins with registration and a putting contest at 10:30 a.m. The tournament takes on full force at noon with a shotgun start, when a cavalry of players will head out in their carts and steer toward holes surrounded by cascading waterfalls, streams, cobblestone bridges and exquisite views. Designed by Cal Olson and PGA Tour Legend Payne Stewart, the challenging course utilizes the natural surroundings of the Orange County foothills – where you may even see a coyote.

Bob Cooney and Ami Silverman '87 (l) with Chris and David W. Burcham '84, Fritz B. Burns dean and professor of law, on site at last year's golf tournament, also held at Coyote Hills.

If you have never participated in the Bob Cooney Golf Tournament, consider making 2004 your year. "I played the first time for two reasons: to contribute to the Law School in an enjoyable way and to make potential business contacts," claims Douglas Gastelum '99. "I have learned, however, that one of the most important results is that I have made new friends." Over the years, participants also have been pleased with the pace of play. Repeat player Tom Keiser '76 says, "We take over the course. No delay; all golf. It's truly the only way to play."

A Great Cause

All proceeds from the tournament are presented to the CLRC, a joint program of Loyola Law School and the Western Law Center for Disability Rights. "Every year, we have been able to make a significant contribution to this unique and valuable program," states Tournament Chair Ami Silverman '87. Silverman's spouse (and tournament namesake!) Bob Cooney adds, "Our goal for the 2004 tourney is to net at least $15,000 for the Cancer Legal Resource Center in order to expand its programs throughout Southern California. To reach this goal, we need the alumni and friends of Loyola Law School to continue their support through participation and sponsorship in this worthy tournament."

Founded in 1997, the CLRC provides information and education on all types of cancer-related legal issues to cancer patients, their families and healthcare providers. Some of these issues are employment, getting and keeping health insurance, navigating through managed care, government benefits and estate planning. When someone has cancer, many legal issues arise which can trigger a financial spiral. Callers to the CLRC receive help navigating through these systems, whether for themselves or a loved one.

Alumni News

Since its inception, the CLRC has grown to three full-time attorneys who have assisted more than 32,000 persons over the telephone and at outreach presentations held at medical facilities. Student externs also provide immeasurable support and information to callers (while they themselves learn about different areas of the law), and a panel of more than 50 pro bono attorneys give a significant amount of their time to assist callers. CLRC Director Barbara Schwerin '87 was recently recognized by the Loyola Law School Alumni Association Board of Governors for her leadership and dedication to this program.

"I'm a cancer survivor myself," states Cooney. "From that standpoint, I can appreciate first-hand the need for legal information and support provided by the Cancer Legal Resource Center, which allows people with cancer, and their families, to focus on treatment and recovery without becoming burdened by things like employment benefits."

Golf is in the Details

Although the putting contest is not new to the tournament, it has a new name: the "Fred Martino '39 Putting Contest." Martino, who passed away in January 2004, never missed a Law School tournament and served as the tournament chair for several years. In addition to receiving traditional prizes, the contest winners will have their names engraved on a permanent trophy that will be on display at Loyola Law School.

Also recently instituted is the "Law Firm Challenge," with a permanent trophy named in memory of Charles "Chuck" Redmond '74. This handsome trophy is already on display at the Law School, engraved with the names of last year's winning law firm Thon, Beck, Vanni, Phillipi and Nutt and the 2002 winning team from the law firm of Limer Yankelevitz Sunshine & Regenstreif. All are welcome to bring a foursome from their law firm – it is not necessary to be a Loyola Law School alum to compete in this special challenge.

"The point of this tournament is to have fun and raise funds," says Silverman. "We have developed a format using the team's "best ball," making it possible for players of all levels – even beginners – to have a great time and support a worthy cause." Silverman is particularly pleased that more and more women are taking an interest in the tournament. Women players compete in their own category for best scores, long drive, closest to the pins and putting so that many participants can win, explains Silverman.

Camilla Broderick '77, who has played the past few years, says "My team loves playing Coyote Hills and this is a great tournament. Even a hacker such as me can win a prize! It's great to play with people connected to Loyola and to support the Cancer Legal Resource Center," Broderick adds. "And Ami and Bob are terrific hosts."

Message from the Board President

Michael Conway '95

On May 18, 2004, Michael Conway '95 was elected president of the Board of Governors (BoG) of the Loyola Law School Alumni Association and will serve in that position through the BoG 2004-05 term. "I am honored to have this opportunity to serve Loyola," says Conway. "I hope to build upon the outstanding achievements of my predecessors and want to thank Jeleen Guttenberg '96 [immediate past president] and the entire Board for all their hard work and dedication to our alumni community this past year. I look forward to working with the Board and all alumni to further strengthen the bonds that our experiences at Loyola have created in all of us."

Established in the late 1970's, the BoG's focus is to assist Loyola Law School in maintaining and improving the highest quality of legal education, encourage and assist students and graduates of Loyola Law School in furthering their legal careers, advocate and practice the highest standards of ethical and professional conduct and promote a spirit of community and friendship among the law school community. With over 12,000 members, the Alumni Association has established an excellent reputation on both local and national levels.

The BoG seeks to fulfill these goals in many ways. "We have implemented and are continuing to sponsor a mentoring program between Loyola students and alumni. There were over 100 students in the program last year. We plan a number of alumni-related events, most particularly the annual Grand Reunion, which sold 652 tickets last year. We also support a variety of good causes including the Young Lawyers Program and the Bob Cooney Golf Tournament, which benefits the Cancer Legal Resource Center. We are continuing to work with the Law School's career services office to help alumni find their first jobs or transition their practices. One of our newest projects is spearheading a Pro Bono Adoption Day program at Loyola that brings together Loyola students and alumni to help finalize adoptions," states Conway.

Another project that Conway and Carmen Ramirez, executive director of advancement, are working on is an evening speaking engagement at the end of October featuring Professor Richard Hasen, who specializes in election law. "I believe that this event will provide an excellent opportunity for alumni to network and also learn more about a very timely subject. With elections in the beginning of November, this should prove to be a very exciting discussion and should not be missed," states Conway.

The 32-member Board is always looking for alumni who want to become more involved with the Alumni Association. The president also encourages anyone who has any suggestions on how to improve upon the Board's work to contact him directly. Contact information for the BoG is posted at <http://alumni.lls.edu/bog.html>.

A Profile on this Year's President

Michael Conway has been deeply committed to Loyola Law School since his days as a student. In his first year he became involved with the admissions office, helping to meet with prospective students and extol the virtues of a Loyola Law School education. He also traveled to other law school recruitment fairs to promote Loyola to undergraduate students. Conway was chief justice of the Scott Moot Court Honors Board while attending Loyola and graduated Order of the Coif. He has been a member of the Board for six years now and has been active in a variety of pro bono and community-related activities. Conway has a wonderful wife, Suzanne, and two great children, Sara and Aidan. He practices general business litigation for Greenberg & Bass, LLP, in Encino, California.

Grand Reunion is a Grand Success

Once again another success! This year's Grand Reunion was held on April 28, 2004 at the Wilshire Grand Hotel in Downtown Los Angeles. The 2004 Distinguished Alumni of the Year Award was presented to John Vandavelde '75 and Nancy Sher Cohen '78. Also honored that evening were Arthur Greenberg '76, Cindy Lopez '85 and Barbara Schwerin '87, recipients of the Alumni Association Board of Governors Service Award. The St. Thomas More Medallion was presented to Professor Allan Ides '79.

Special thanks are extended to the event sponsors for their generous support:

GET INVOLVED

Become a mentor to a current law student. The Alumni Association Board of Governors invites alumni to participate in the mentor program. The program is designed as a system of support and guidance in which Loyola alumni can share their experience and insight with current students. While the program is designed to require minimal time commitment, the alumni mentor and student are free to determine the time commitment and activities that will best suit their needs and availability.

Register now for the mentor program by completing and returning the registration form to the Alumni Relations Office no later than August 30, 2004. For your convenience you may also register on line at <http://alumni.lls.edu>.

The criteria used in assigning a mentor will be based on information provided by the alumni on the Mentor Registration Form and on information provided by students on the Student Mentorship Registration Form. Mentors and students will receive the contact information for their assigned counterpart in late September.

If you have any questions regarding the mentor program, please feel free to contact Carmen Ramirez, Executive Director of Advancement at Carmen.Ramirez@lls.edu or at 213.736.1046.

General WRAP-UP

Washington, D.C. Regional Reception

Carmen Ramirez, Executive Director of Advancement, and alumni living or working in the Washington, D.C. area met for cocktails, hors d'oeuvres and camaraderie at the Renaissance D.C. Hotel on March 11, 2004. Additionally, newly admitted students for the Fall 2004 entering class were invited to attend and speak with alums to get first-hand information on the Loyola Law School experience. Several alumni attending the reception expressed interest in coordinating future alumni gatherings.

Loyola Adoption Day 2004

On March 12, 2004, alumni paired with students finalized the adoptions for 18 children from the California Dependency System. The pro bono adoption project was sponsored by the Alumni Association Board of Governors in conjunction with Public Counsel. The children whose adoptions were finalized in the Loyola adoption day project have been in the Dependency Court system for many years — many since birth. Please contact Carmen Ramirez at 213.736.1046 if you are interested in participating in the 2005 Adoption Day Project tentatively scheduled in March of 2005.

First Inland Empire Alumni Luncheon

The first-time gathering of alumni from the Inland Empire was held at Duane's Restaurant at the Mission Inn in Riverside on March 18, 2004. Attended by more than 25 enthusiastic law school graduates, spirits were high as they asked, "Why haven't we done this before, and when can we do it again?" Plans are underway to coordinate the second annual gathering which will be held in Spring 2005.

Public Interest Reception

Alumni and friends of the Law School gathered on March 24, 2004 for a reception and awards presentation benefiting the Public Interest Law Foundation (PILF) at the Law School. Special recognition was extended to Carlyle (Cary) Hall III '96 (r) of Heller, Ehrman, White & McAuliffe for his pro bono work. Linda Samels Ceballos '95 (l) of Inner City Law Center was also-recognized that evening for her commitment to public interest.

Mentor/Student Brunch

A brunch sponsored by the Board of Governors' Alumni Association mentoring committee was held at the Magic Castle in Hollywood on March 28, 2004. Attended by 60 alums and guests, the group was treated to a private magic show by law school alumnus and Magic Castle member Ray Karch '78. Alumni interested in becoming a mentor should complete and mail the mentor registration form on page 4 or register on line at <http://alumni.lls.edu>.

Patent Law Reception

The school's first Patent Law Reception was held on April 14, 2004. The reception allowed guests an opportunity to network with fellow alumni working in the field. Ben Hofilena '03 and Minn Chung '04, winners of the 2003 Giles Sutherland Rich Memorial Patent Moot Court Competition, were also recognized that evening.

Sacramento Chapter Luncheon

The second official meeting of the Law School's Sacramento Chapter was held at the Huki Lau Island Grill in Sacramento on May 27, 2004. Carmen Ramirez, executive director of advancement, presented the chapter's organizers Sergio J. Diaz '83 and the Honorable Jeffrey Gunther '71 with an official banner for the group. Chapter members are concentrating their efforts on promoting the Law School in the Sacramento area with an outreach toward local colleges and high schools.

Hawaii Alumni Gathering

The annual Hawaii Alumni Reception was held at the Honolulu home of former Governor Benjamin Cayetano '71 and his wife Vicky on April 16, 2004. Alumni and friends enjoyed an evening of networking and camaraderie.

Estate Planning Dinner

A small group gathered at the Skirball Cultural Center on April 22, 2004 for dinner and a presentation by Philip Karpel '77, Linda J. Retz '93 and Randy Spiro '78, addressing recent changes in estate/gift tax laws and the impact of federal privacy rules.

Entertainment Law Luncheon

Professor Jay Dougherty's Entertainment Law Luncheon was held on May 18, 2004 at Lunaria restaurant in Century City. Jerry Rubinstein '65, founder and CEO of Music Imaging & Media, Inc., was the featured speaker for the luncheon. Luncheons with optional MCLE credit are held throughout the year and address current trends and changes in the entertainment industry. To add your name to the invitation list for future luncheons, please contact Suzanne Zeimis at 213.736.8153.
