FACULTY BRIEFS

FATHER RAYMOND G. DECKER

Father Raymond G. Decker has been appointed Assistant Dean and will direct the law school's Office of Admissions, as well as teach a jurisprudence seminar.

Father Decker holds a Ph.D. from the University of California at Berkeley, where he did extensive research on the religious infra-structures which permeate the Criminal Law of California.

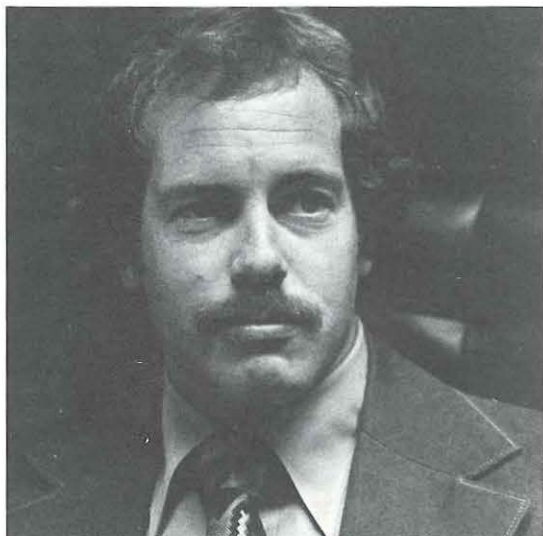

He has also performed pastoral work in San Francisco, served as Secretary of the Senate of Priests and taught at St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park.

MICHAEL HARWIN

Michael Harwin has been appointed as an Assistant Dean responsible for the law school's Placement Service, Special Events and Senior Forum. The Senior Forum is a program designed to aid the law student in becoming oriented to actual practice.

Harwin comes to the law school from serving as National Executive Secretary of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity, where he directed a national placement information service for law students and practicing lawyers. He is a graduate of Rutgers University (B.A.) and holds a J.D. from New York University School of Law.

FACULTY APPOINTMENTS

Joining the faculty as an Associate Professor of Law is GIDEON KANNER. Mr. Kanner is an acknowledged authority on the law of eminent domain. Kanner will teach courses in Torts & Civil Trial Advocacy, as well as a new course in the law of Eminent Domain which Loyola will offer for the first time this Fall.

STEVEN R. HIRSCHTICK will join the faculty as an Assistant Professor. He has written and lectured on legal problems of executing compensation, and has taught Federal Income Tax at Loyola University School of Law in Chicago. Mr. Hirschtick will teach courses in Corporations, Federal Income Tax and Business & Tax Planning.

Assistant Professor ROBERT BENSON, wrote a column on the Parliamentary "No-Confidence" System, which appeared on the editorial pages of the Washington Post (6/10/74), The Los Angeles Times (8/13/74) and the Honolulu Advertiser (8/19/74).

Professor MALVINA H. GUGGENHEIM taught Criminal Procedure at the University of Texas School of Law in Austin this summer. She was also made an Honorary Citizen of Texas.

Acting Professor of Law MICHAEL JOSEPHSON, attended the committee meetings of the A.B.A. section on Legal Education in Hawaii. In early October, Mr. Josephson will lecture as part of the faculty of the National Academy of Judicial Education, reviewing evidence and criminal procedures for judges.

Dean FREDERICK J. LOWER, JR. and JOHN WILLIS, JR., Director of Development, were happy to see, meet and greet many of the Loyola Law alumni at the Law School's Hospitality Suite in the Senator Hotel during the State Bar Convention in Sacramento.

A proposal by Professor LESLIE S. ROTHENBERG to establish a new Section on Law and Religion with the Association of American Law School was approved by the AALS Executive Committee at its August 1974 meeting. The formal petition to the Executive Committee seeking the necessary permission was signed by 53 professors and deans from 23 law schools across the country. The Section will hold its first meeting at the Association's Annual Meeting to be held this December in San Francisco, and Professor Rothenberg will preside at the session as ad hoc Chairman.

Acting Law Librarian, FREDERICA M. SEDGWICK, was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Southern California Association of Law Libraries. In June, Ms. Sedgwick attended the annual meeting of the American Association of Law Libraries in St. Paul, Minnesota.

RALPH BOCHES has joined the staff as Directing Attorney of the Center for Parental and Juvenile Justice.

ADJUNCT FACULTY

Dean Lower has announced the appointment of six new adjunct professors of law. The adjunct faculty are utilized chiefly for the teaching of highly specialized elective courses at Loyola. Those appointed for the coming year are:

DR. A. MUHSIN EL-BIALI will teach a new seminar in Islamic Law.

RUSSELL INUNGERICH will teach a course in Federal Jurisdiction and Parties.

JUDGE DAN KAUFMAN will teach a new State and Local Taxation course.

HARRY C. SIGMAN will be teaching a new course in Close Corporations.

GERALD M. SINGER will teach a new Senior Forum in Law Office Management.

MICHAEL WELLS will teach a new course in Agriculture Law in the Spring.

Dean Lower noted that the new courses being taught by these professors reflects the diversity of the interest of Loyola's 1250 law students. Continued growing interest in Loyola's International and Comparative Law offerings led to the addition of the Islamic Law course, as well as a Seminar in Jewish Law to be offered during the Spring semester by Professor Rothenberg. The course in Close Corporations is being offered to permit the students a fuller exposure to the kinds of corporate law problems they are most likely to encounter in actual practice. The Senior Forum is a non-credit course to acquaint seniors with all of the alternatives available for the practice of law. The course in Agriculture Law was initiated upon request of a large number of students who indicated an interest in the legal problems of California's massive Agriculture industry.

ADVOCATES FUND COUNCIL REPORT 1974

In the 1973-74 fiscal year, there were 175 donors to the Advocates Fund Council who contributed a total of $48,956.00, toward the scholarship program and general advancement of Loyola University School of Law.

This is a significant increase over the past year, but only represents 7% of the Loyola Law alumni making an annual gift. The goal of the Advocates Fund Council is 100% of the alumni participating in the annual campaign. Such support will make possible the continued advancement of Loyola University School of Law.

DR. H. CLAUDE HUDSON SCHOLARSHIP ESTABLISHED

In late May, the Black alumni of Loyola Law held a dinner in the Los Angeles Room on the Westchester campus to honor Dr. H. Claude Hudson and at that time, established the Dr. H. Claude Hudson Scholarship.

Dr. Hudson was the first Black graduate of Loyola Law School in the Class of 1932. At 88 years of age, Dr. Hudson has not given up his struggle for human rights. He has been an officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for 53 years, practiced dentistry in Los Angeles, graduated from law school and helped found Broadway Federal Savings and Loan.

JOSEPH J. DONOVAN DINNER

On Thursday, September 19, a dinner was held at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel to honor the Joseph J. Donovan Fellows of Loyola Law School. The Donovan Fellows are major donors to the School of Law, each making an annual contribution of $1,000 or more.

For most, being a Donovan Fellow is more than making a monetary gift to his alma mater. It is mutual striving to retain and uphold the high ideals and standards set forth by Father Joseph J. Donovan, Regent Emeritus. Throughout the evening, many and varied personal recollections of Father Donovan were heard.

All agree, the highest tribute to Father Donovan and the legal profession can be made only through the continuance of his work.
