The Fifth Law of Library Science

Dear reader, with you.

Perspectives on our work as academic librarians and library staff and sharing what we learn, upcoming events at the William H. Hannon Library. We look forward to discovering new perspectives on our work as academic librarians and library staff.

Each month, the happenings at the William H. Hannon Library are brought to you by the academic librarians and library staff.

Over the next year, the William H. Hannon Library will undertake a series of assessment projects, including a campus-wide assessment of the library building and environment system; a full review of library signage and wayfinding tools; and analysis of the role of librarians in digital scholarship. Along with these projects, we will also be undertaking a series of initiatives to support the academic excellence of the University of California, Los Angeles.

We hope that you will enjoy reading about our work as academic librarians and library staff and sharing what we learn, as we continue to shape and transform the academic library of the future.
