Happenings @ Hannon

5-2019

Happenings@Hannon, May 2019

Loyola Marymount University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.lmu.edu/hannon_newsletter

Recommended Citation
Loyola Marymount University, "Happenings@Hannon, May 2019" (2019). Happenings @ Hannon. 73. https://digitalcommons.lmu.edu/hannon_newsletter/73

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the William H. Hannon Library Publications at Digital Commons @ Loyola Marymount University and Loyola Law School. It has been accepted for inclusion in Happenings @ Hannon by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Loyola Marymount University and Loyola Law School. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@lmu.edu.
Support Your Library

We regularly feature highlights from our LMU databases, but many are not... and not everything you will find is “scholarly.” Learn more in our Google Scholar: Pros and Cons.

Google Scholar—Pros and Cons

Your support advances the mission of the William H. Hannon Library and helps to ensure that LMU students can read about in this issue. Please consider becoming a donor today!

Women’s Voices 2019: What You Missed

For this year’s Women’s Voices event, students in Theatre Arts performed dramatic readings of women’s narratives connected to our Spring 2019 exhibition, “Making a Scene: The Process of Design”, including Jean Rosenthal, Patricia Zipprodt, May Nickell Rankin, and Patricia Mcllrath. LMU junior Jaida Macklin tells you what you missed.

An Evening of Poetry with Sarah Maclay and Friends

Sarah Maclay and friends read selections of their poetry. First-year undergraduate Veronica Dockweiler. Church during the 1937 funeral for Gertrude Dockweiler. Sons and pallbearers carrying the casket out of St. Vincent collection. Pictured here: Dockweiler sons and an image from the Dockweiler Family Papers.

Our graduates. Go set the world on fire!

worked at the library during their entire four years as undergraduates. Congratulations to all of them.

As one of the largest employers of student workers on campus, we could not offer the incredible array of services we provide the LMU campus without the help of our student employees. Next week, 29 of our students will walk across the commencement stage. Twelve of those students worked at the library during their entire four years as undergraduates. Congratulations to all of them.

Congratulations to Our Seniors!

Meet the recipients of this year’s Senior Library Employees Recognition Awards. These awards recognize student employees who have demonstrated a sustained level of superior performance and excellence in their service to our library community. Congratulations to your outstanding colleagues and friends who have been selected for this year’s awards.

Congratulations to Our Seniors!

What additional skills do our constituents wish to learn, and how do they wish to learn?

How skilled are our constituents in the use of library resources?

How effectively does the library communicate with our campus communities about our services and resources?

What services and resources are important to our constituents, and how successfully does the library deliver them?

How important is library service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources?

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

Measuring Information Service Outcomes at Hannon Library

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.

What are key issues; and more.

To-date, 149 institutions have administered MISO, with 40 participating sites in 2019, including higher education to gauge effectiveness of information and library services. The MISO survey gathers information on a variety of measures, including: frequency, satisfaction, and importance of service use; academic impact of services; level of constituent knowledge about services and resources.